

Issue Number 20 | September 2017

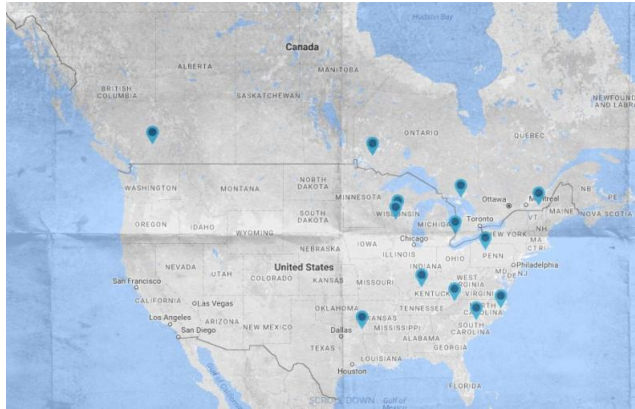

Field Trip, Minus Permission Slips

There's nothing like a field trip - the chance to shake up the usual routine and gain a fresh perspective. Recently, Domtar joined with Staples and the Appalachian Woodland Alliance to host a field trip in the forests of North Carolina. Watch what happened when procurement professionals stepped out from behind their desks and into the woods to better understand the impacts of their supply chain decisions.

WATCH NOW »

Responsible Forestry in the U.S. and Canada

In Canada, 80 percent of the land is held by the government. In the US, the majority of forestland is privately owned. With manufacturing facilities in both countries, how do these differences affect Domtar's commitment to responsible sourcing?

FIND OUT »

Difference Maker Bill Kinney Jr.

Bennettsville, SC - home to Domtar's Marlboro mill - celebrates its bicentennial in 2019. Local historian William "Bill" Light Kinney Jr. often provides walking tours of the city to students to ensure future generations appreciate the rich history of their surroundings. Learn more about his positive impact on the community while enjoying your own private tour from Bill himself.

WATCH NOW »

DID YOU KNOW?

Domtar's reduction of total direct and indirect GHG emissions since 2010 was the equivalent of removing 100,000 vehicles from the roadways every year.

EVERYDAY SUSTAINABILITY

Instead of bagging leaves this fall, consider composting. Composting keeps unnecessary materials out of landfills and reduces methane, a potent greenhouse gas.

Source: EPA

Join Domtar in the sustainability conversation happening on social media

Subscribe to our Newsletter

Sustainability questions? We can help! Contact your Domtar Account Manager or sustainability@domtar.com for details.

To learn more about Domtar's commitment to full circle responsibility, please visit www.domtar.com