

The Eclipse Training System consists of computer-based training resources linked to a web-based Record-keeping System and certificate printing utility. When users successfully complete computer-based training, their training record is automatically updated in the Record-keeping System, and they are given the opportunity to print a certificate of completion.

Read the instructions and follow the prompts to continue ... If you have not used the system before, click on “No” when asked “Have you used this system before?”

If your company name is not in the list, click on the “Enter new Company” button and type in the name of your company. Press “Create My Record”

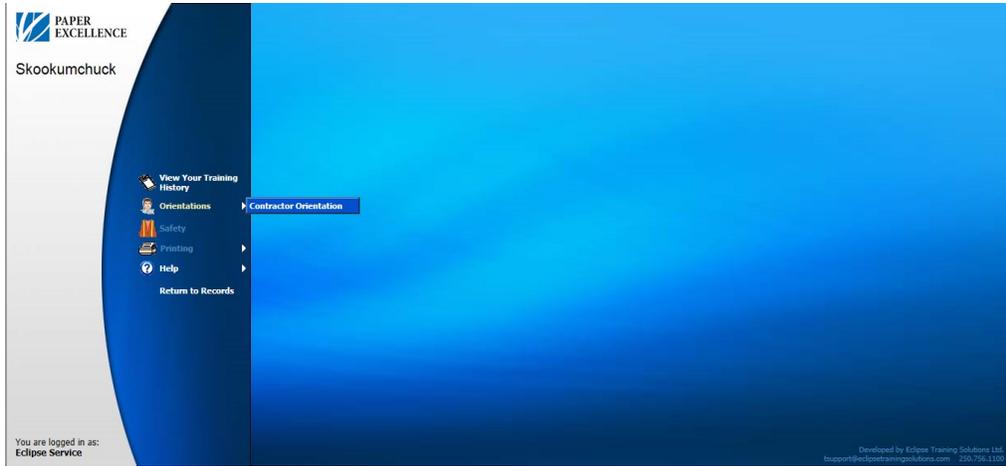

If you have used the system before, click on “Yes” and select your name and company name from the drop-down lists and click on “Login”

At the next screen, verify that the information is correct and click on “Continue”.

You will now see the main menu where you can select the program you are required to complete.

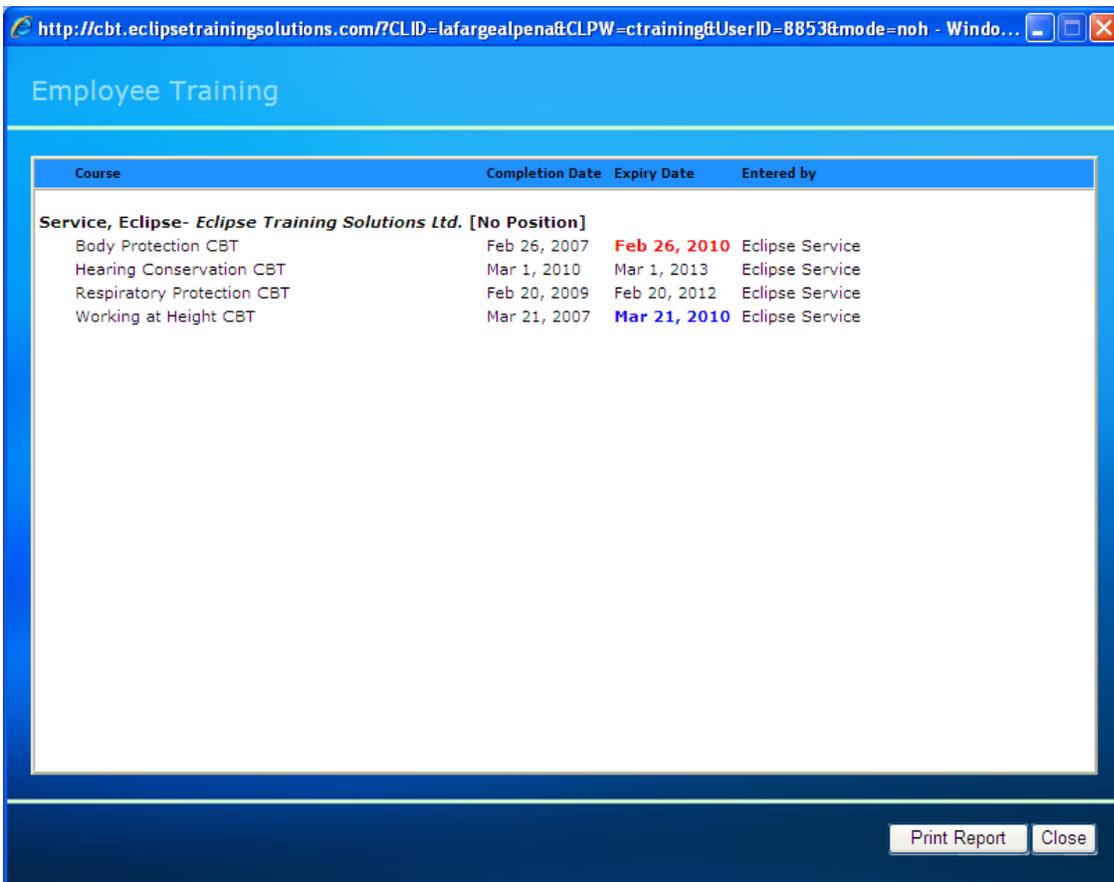

When you have successfully completed the evaluation in a program, a window will display and prompt you to print your certificate. Print the certificate and card and present them to your contact when you enter the site. If you do not have access to a printer, your contact can check your record at the site.

Note: You must score 100% on the evaluation before a certificate can be printed. If you answer a question incorrectly, follow the prompts to review the material and try the question again.

You will need to complete programs as a refresher on a regular basis. To check for the expiry date of any training you have completed in the Eclipse system, click on the “View Your Training Record” option on the main menu.

A list of any programs you have completed and the applicable expiry date will be displayed. If the expiry date is red, the training has expired, if the expiry date is blue, the training will expire within the next 30 days.
